NSS Liberal Studies and Hong Kong Country Parks

The urbanization of our countryside in recent decades has caused disturbance to the natural environment and wildlife habitats in Hong Kong. But is this impact inevitable? What is ecological impact in our valuable country parks and natural habitats? What is sustainable development? Is sustainable development possible in Hong Kong?

This section of the Resource Kit covers the following two case studies:

- Case Study 1: The Airport Project
- Case Study 2: The Tung Chung - Ngong Ping Cable Car Project
